PROFILE

I am an Information Technology Engineering student who considers myself a responsible and organized individual. While I am looking forward to gaining my first professional work experience, I have already been actively involved in volunteer activities, which have helped me build valuable teamwork and communication skills.

FORMATION

- Primary school 2011 - 2017
Study in TANGKARSANG PRIMARY SCHOOL.
- High school 2017 - 2023
Study in TANGKARASANG HIHG SCHOOL.
- University 2024 - 2027
Now I Study in Year 3 at Royal University of Phnom Penh.

EXPERIENCE

Volunteer at Air and Tech show.

As a volunteer at the Air and Tech Show, I assisted in organizing and coordinating various activities and helped manage the flow of attendees. This experience allowed me to strengthen my communication and problem-solving skills, work effectively under pressure, and collaborate with a diverse team. I also gained insights into event management, public interaction, and the importance of teamwork in large-scale technical exhibitions.

Volunteer at Mekong Major & Career Fest.

- Assisted with event registration and guided participants.
- Supported booth setup and provided help to company reps.
- Helped manage stage flow and coordinated on-stage activities.
- Improved public speaking, communication, and teamwork skills.

Volunteer at TVET DAY 2025.

- I volunteered at the 8th National Day of Technical and Vocational Education and Training (TVET) on June 15-16, 2025, at Koh Pich Convention and Exhibition Center.
- Supported event preparation, logistics, and on-site coordination over two full days with thousands of attendees including students, educators, companies, and government representatives.
- Collaborated with event organizers, volunteers, and participants to ensure the event ran smoothly and professionally.
- Took part in recognition ceremony where participating institutions and companies received certificates of appreciation for their contribution to Cambodia's TVET development.

Now I'm Looking for find Internship to make New Experience and Improve my skill too.
